Serious Alert for India: Risk of ‘Mass Atrocities’ in the Next Two Years

Agency. New Delhi

A crucial report from the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum has issued a serious warning regarding India. According to the annual global assessment released in December 2025 by the museum’s Early Warning Project, India ranks fourth among countries at risk of mass atrocities against civilians in the next two years. The study analyzed a total of 168 countries. Most concerning, the report places India at the top of the list of countries where mass atrocities are not currently occurring but are most likely to erupt in the future. In other words, India is being viewed as a potential new “flashpoint.” According to the report, there is a 7.5 percent probability of organized mass violence against civilians in India by the end of 2026. Researchers define “mass atrocities” as instances where at least 1,000 non-combatant civilians are killed within a year due to their group identity, such as religion, ethnicity, politics, or geographic location. The three countries ranked above India are Myanmar, Chad, and Sudan. However, these countries are already experiencing widespread violence and civil conflict. India’s situation is considered different and more noteworthy because while such violence is not currently widespread, the risk indicators are rapidly emerging. This study was conducted jointly by researchers from the US Holocaust Memorial Museum and Dartmouth College. It analyzed data from several decades to understand the common characteristics exhibited by countries before the onset of mass atrocities. These indicators were then compared to the current situation. The report asks the question: “Which countries today most closely resemble those countries where mass atrocities began one or two years after similar conditions existed in the past?”

Geeta demands improvements to the dilapidated conditions at Jagannathpur CHC

West Singhbhum: The true state of the healthcare facilities at the Community Health Center (CHC) in Jagannathpur, West Singhbhum district, came to light on Monday when BJP District President Geeta Balmuchu conducted a surprise inspection of the hospital. During the inspection, she expressed her displeasure at the widespread disarray and severe shortage of resources in the hospital, calling it a direct disregard for the health of the general public. Geeta Balmuchu found that currently, only one doctor is posted at the community health center. Due to the severe shortage of doctors, patients are having to wait for hours for treatment, while seriously ill patients are not receiving timely and adequate treatment. She said that running health services for such a large population with only one doctor is extremely worrying. The condition of health facilities for women was also found to be alarming during the inspection. Due to the absence of a female doctor at the hospital, female patients, especially pregnant women, are facing considerable difficulties. In many cases, women are forced to go to private or other government hospitals, which increases their financial and mental burden. Geeta Balmuchu also questioned the lack of essential diagnostic facilities at the hospital. She stated that due to the unavailability of important diagnostic facilities like CT scans, patients are being referred elsewhere. This not only wastes time but also leads to the condition of many patients becoming critical due to the delay in diagnosis. In addition, complaints were received regarding the non-payment of regular salaries to employees working through outsourcing. The continuous delays in salary payments have led to discontent among the employees, which is clearly affecting the functioning of the hospital and the services provided to the patients. Several BJP workers were present on the occasion, including Mandal President Chandra Mohan Gop, Jagannathpur Mandal President Rai Bhumij, Sanjay Barik, Dhceraj Singh, Vishnu Gupta, Jitu Gupta, Shashi Das, Chetan Gop, Ravi Das, and Rani Tiriya.

The event is jointly organised by the Department of Metallurgical and Materials Engineering, IIT

Kharagpur and BIT Mesra, with participation from global professionals focused on surface engineering, additive manufacturing, hybrid processing and advanced materials. Highlighting the conference’s role in shaping industry ready students, Prof. (Dr.) Indranil Manna, Vice-Chancellor, BIT Mesra, said, “When students engage directly with experts working on wear, durability, process control, sustainability and other such core functions, they begin to understand how theory translates into engineering decisions.” The conference will be held under the patronage of Prof. Suman Chakraborty, Director, IIT Kharagpur, with a distinguished roster of invited guests and speakers.

Attendees will include Dr. Shivaji Chakraborty, President of the West Bengal Academy of Science & Technology (WAST India); Dr. Narendra B. Dahotre, Regents Professor, University of North Texas; Dr. S Somnath, former Chairman, Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO); Mr. J. D. Patil, President of the Indian National Academy of Engineering (INAE); and Prof. B. S. Murty, Director, IIT Hyderabad. FSEAM 2026 aims to serve as a global platform for presenting scientific advancements, facilitating technical discussions, and fostering collaborations that bridge academic research with real-world applications.

Tata Steel becomes active after MLA's intervention, initiates steps to free Aam Bagan from encroachment

Agency. East Singhbhum

Following a letter from Jamshedpur West MLA Saryu Roy, Tata Steel has swung into action to free Aam Bagan (Netaji Subhash Chandra Bose Maidan) from encroachment. Anand Kumar, head of Tata Steel’s land management department, wrote a letter to the Deputy Commissioner of East Singhbhum on Monday, requesting the deployment of a large number of police personnel under the supervision of a magistrate to free the ground from encroachment and illegal activities. The letter was written on January 6th. In the letter sent to the Deputy Commissioner, Tata Steel mentioned that a large part of Aam Bagan was earlier fenced with iron grills to protect it from undesirable elements, but it has come to light that the grills have been cut by anti-social elements. Following this, a part of the ground has been illegally converted into a vehicle parking lot. Not only that, several illegal garages are operating there, and fairs are also being organized without any permission. The letter states that to protect Aam Bagan from encroachment and illegal activities, the company has decided to construct a new boundary wall around the entire ground. Administrative cooperation is necessary for this, so that the encroachment removal operation can be carried out in the presence of a magistrate and sufficient police force, and the positive and public-beneficial use of this land located in a prime location of the city can be ensured. Regarding this entire matter, MLA Saryu Roy shared Tata Steel’s letter on the social media platform ‘X’, stating that a request has been made for the deployment of a magistrate and police force to free Jamshedpur’s Aam Bagan, also known as Netaji Subhash Chandra Bose Maidan, from encroachment. He said that the letter also clearly mentions the efforts made earlier. It is noteworthy that earlier on January 4th, Saryu Roy had written to the Vice President (Corporate Services) of Tata Steel expressing concern over the dilapidated condition of the Netaji Subhash Chandra Bose Aam Bagan ground and demanding that it be developed into a respectable site associated with the memory of Netaji.

Orientation Program for Jan Arogya Samiti Members in Ranchi

Agency. Ranchi

An orientation program for members of the Jan Arogya Samiti (JAS) was organized on Monday at the auditorium of the Sadar Hospital complex in Ranchi. The program aimed to familiarize committee members with their responsibilities, working methods, and the role of public participation in health services. Initiating the program, District Program Coordinator Preceti Chaudhary explained that the Jan Arogya Samiti has been formed to ensure the quality of services in every Ayushman Arogya Mandir (health and wellness center). The committee is chaired by the head of the Gram Panchayat (village council), while its members include community health officers, Sahiyas (community health workers), women from village organizations, and other rural representatives. On this occasion, State Program Coordinator Akai Minj provided information about various schemes and programs of the Health Department. Four lakh people die from TB every year in the country: Dr. Kamlesh State Nodal Officer (TB and CPHC Cell) Dr. Kamlesh Kumar said that the goal of a TB-free panchayat is not only to treat the disease but also to eliminate fear, misconceptions, and discrimination related to TB from society. He informed that the TB-Free India campaign has been running throughout the country since 1962, and currently, there are 28-29 lakh TB patients in the country. He said that approximately four lakh people die from TB every year in the country, although there has been a significant reduction in the TB mortality rate in Jharkhand. TB can be eradicated not only through medicine and testing but also through public participation, better nutrition, a clean lifestyle, and quality food. Dr. Kamlesh stated that this TB-Free India campaign has been among farmers, laborers, and people working in slum areas and construction sites. Comprehensive testing at the panchayat level is necessary. If a person experiences symptoms such as cough for more than two weeks, fever, loss of appetite, night sweats, weight loss, fatigue, or difficulty breathing, they should get tested immediately. 14 Panchayats Declared TB-Free: Notably, 14 panchayats in Ranchi district have been declared TB-free. This achievement has been made possible through the active cooperation of the health department, panchayat representatives, Sahiyas (community health workers), Anganwadi workers, and the community. Under the TB-Free India campaign, additional nutritional support is being provided to TB patients undergoing treatment by becoming ‘Nikshay Mitra’ (friends of TB patients).

Missing Kanhaiya recovered from Koderma by Ranchi Police

Agency. Ranchi

Ranchi police have recovered Kanhaiya, who had been missing for 61 days, from Koderma. According to information received on Monday, 12-year-old Kanhaiya Kumar went missing from Ormanjhi on the evening of November 22. The Ranchi Police SIT was conducting raids in seven states for his safe recovery. During this time, Ranchi SSP Rakesh Ranjan received information that the child was being held captive in Koderma. Following this, a team of Ranchi police, with the help of Koderma police, safely recovered the child. The SSP himself was monitoring the entire operation. Notably, Kanhaiya Kumar, a resident of the Ormanjhi area, had been missing since the evening of November 22, 2025. According to Kanhaiya’s mother, he had gone to play football with other children near SS Plus-Two High School near Ormanjhi Block Chowk. After returning from there, he reached near Mamta Market, where his mother sells street food (puchka). After coming to the shop, he made some chaat himself and gave it to his mother to eat. After eating the chaat, he left saying he would be back in a short while. But he did not return. The family searched extensively, but he could not be found. The woman’s eldest son, Krishna Kumar, is 19 years old and has a kidney problem. Her younger daughter is Shivani Kumari. Her husband is Arjun Sao, but he is physically incapacitated. Kanhaiya studied in class three and also helped at the street food stall in the evenings. Notably, Ranchi police had busted a large and organized inter-state child trafficking gang last Sunday. This gang used to kidnap children and force them into begging, prostitution, and other heinous human trafficking activities. On the instructions of Chief Minister Hemant Soren, DGP Tanasha Mishra, and CID ADG Manoj Kaushik, the SIT formed under the leadership of SSP Rakesh Ranjan dismantled this network and arrested a total of 13 accused.

According to the police, this gang has been active in the area for a long time.

IndiGo to inform if it can fly 2k flights daily

New Delhi,Agency: As IndiGo's exemption from the new safety-enhancing flight duty rules for A320 fleet pilots expires Feb 10, the airline must tell DGCA this week, likely Monday, whether it can still run more than 2,000 flights a day under the new rules that increase pilot requirement, reports Saurabh Sinha.

If it cannot, authorities are expected to step in and cut flights in time to avert a repeat of last December's chaos, for which the DGCA fined the airline Rs 22.2cr, an amount pilots' body has dismissed as "peanuts", saying the regulator counted only three days of disruption when the turmoil lasted far longer.

IndiGo chaos lasted beyond 3 days DGCA probed: Pilots body

Regular meetings are being held with IndiGo to get a status on their preparedness for once the flight duty time limitation (FDTL) exemption ends on Feb 10. They have informed us about their pilot hiring plans. The airline has been doing dry runs with its scheduling software by matching available pilot strength with number of flights to be operated. On Monday they are expected to share their post Feb 10 preparedness," said people in the know.

It is learnt that from Feb 1 IndiGo will plan its crew rosters as per new FDTL rules and without factoring in the current exemption that will end later that month. IndiGo flights have been reduced till the end of winter schedule (which ends on last Saturday in March) and the airline plans to serve its entire network with these cuts under the new FDTL rules. It is learnt IndiGo may not seek any further exemptions.

The aviation ministry and the DGCA are keeping a very close watch on the situation.

"We can't and won't allow a repeat of what happened last Dec," said sources.

The Federation of Indian Pilots (FIP) has termed the DGCA's Rs 22.2cr fine on IndiGo as "peanuts" and questioned some aspects of its report. FIP president Captain CS Randhawa said: "The DGCA probe takes cognisance of IndiGo flight disruptions only on three days — Dec 3, 4 & 5. In reality, the disruptions lasted much longer till about mid Dec and the scale was much higher." Captain Randhawa questioned the lack of action. "Issuing a warning letter after a massive disruption of this scale is a joke, like the fine amount.

Also with IndiGo flights cut, why hasn't the FDTL exemption been revoked? The DGCA is levying a fine of Rs 30 lakh for each day of non-compliance of the new flight duty rules.

Does it mean that non-compliance of the law can be traded with a penalty?" Captain Randhawa said.

IndiGo said on Saturday that it is "committed to taking full cognisance of the orders and will, in a thoughtful and timely manner, take appropriate measures... an in-depth review of the robustness and resilience of the internal processes at IndiGo (is) underway to ensure that the airline emerges stronger out of these events in its otherwise pristine record of 19 plus years of operations.."

In 2023 too, -40 was good enough for NEET PG TMC taunts PM Modi over Singur silence

New Delhi,Agency: There is much outrage in the medical community that the cut off for NEET PG 2025 has been reduced to zero percentile for the reserved category, which is equivalent to a score of minus 40. However, this is not the first time a score of minus 40 was good enough to qualify. The cut off was similarly reduced to zero percentile in 2023 for all categories and then too the equivalent score was minus 40.

In 2023, when the medical counselling committee announced the reduction to zero percentile, it did not reveal that this was equivalent to a score of minus 40. media had analysed the NEET scores and pointed out that zero percentile meant 14 candidates who scored zero marks, 13 with negative marks and the one getting the lowest mark of -40 out of 800 would also qualify. In 2025, there are 126 candidates who have scored zero or less. Zero percentile means the lowest score or that none of the candidates got less. In 2023 and in 2025, one candidate got the lowest score of -40. Interestingly, in July 2022, in response to a petition filed by three students seeking lower cut off, the government had stated in court that "minimum qualifying percentile for admission is required to be maintained to ensure minimum standard of education and general standards for admission to professional courses". Taking the government's argument into consideration, the court dismissed the petition and ruled against lowering the standards of medical education as it "involves in its ambit the matter of life and death".

In 2023, govt officials were quoted in news reports justifying lowering the cut off to zero as a one-time measure to fill vacant PG seats. However, this has become a regular feature with cut offs being lowered to abysmal levels every year. About 2 lakh to 2.3 lakh students appear for NEET PG for over 70,000 seats (about 57,000 MD/MS seats and the rest are DNB and PG diploma seats). However, the seats in private medical colleges remain vacant as the fees for clinical subjects in many of them runs into crores which most candidates cannot afford. Lowering the cut off increases the pool of 'qualified' candidates and improves the chance of finding candidates with deep pockets who can afford the fees even if they have rock bottom scores.

"To lower NEET PG qualifying marks to abysmal level is driven solely by commercial considerations. This decision 'reserves' post-graduate medical seats to the rich and mighty in commercial fiefdoms called private medical colleges. This is shameful and must be condemned as unadulterated corruption," tweeted former principal health secretary of Andhra Pradesh Dr PV Ramesh.

Kolkata,Agency: Bengal industries minister Shashi Panja mocked PM Modi for skipping any project announcement for Singur at a rally on Sunday, saying it left state BJP functionaries "disappointed and frustrated". "We hoped the PM would announce projects for Singur. There was none," she said, accusing Modi of speaking "on multiple topics" while avoiding specifics.

TMC also pushed back against BJP's pre-rally claim of an industry exodus from Bengal and attempts to revive Singur as a symbol. In a post on X, the party said state approved a Rs 500-crore warehouse project on 11.35 acre in Singur, aimed at boosting e-commerce logistics and generating employment.

Party national general secretary Abhishek Banerjee took aim at Modi's call for "real change" in Bengal, saying: "Outsiders from Delhi, landlords of Gujarat will change, we will not change." At a roadshow in Nadia's Chapra, he accused Centre of punishing Bengal by suspending funds for welfare schemes. "Bengal will not change by bowing its head," Banerjee said.

TMC accused BJP of trying to "appropriate" Durga Puja and Bengali culture. MP Partha Bhowmik recalled BJP's past legal challenge to state grants for Durga Puja committees, crediting CM Mamata Banerjee with taking the festival to the global stage.

‘Most consequential board ever’ ‘Old generation should step aside’ Nitin Gadkari backs leadership shift; pitches youth to take charge

Trump invites India to join Gaza ‘Board of Peace’; what is it

New Delhi,Agency: US President Donald Trump has invited India to be part of a proposed international "Board of Peace" aimed at overseeing post-war governance and reconstruction in Gaza. The initiative forms a key pillar of Trump's broader Gaza ceasefire plan and is now beginning to take shape, with the White House confirming the involvement of several global figures.

In a letter, shared by US "Now it is time to turn all of these Dreams into reality. At the heart of the Plan is The Board of Peace, the most impressive and consequential Board ever assembled, which will be established as a new International Organization and Transitional Governing Administration," the letter read.

The invitation places India among a growing list of countries and global figures being courted by Washington as Trump seeks to operationalise a 20-point

"Comprehensive Plan" aimed at ending the Gaza conflict and managing the transition to long-term stability.

What is the Board of Peace? According to the White House, the Board of Peace will serve as the central strategic body overseeing Gaza's post-war transition. Chaired by Trump himself, it is expected to focus on governance capacity-building, regional relations, reconstruction, investment mobilisation and large-scale funding.

Confirmed members include US Secretary of State Marco Rubio, Trump's special negotiator Steve Witkoff, his son-in-law Jared Kushner, former UK prime minister Tony Blair, billionaire financier Marc Rowan, World Bank president Ajay Banga and senior National Security Council aide Robert Gabriel. More appointments are expected in the coming weeks.

New Delhi,Agency: Union minister Nitin Gadkari on Sunday made a strong pitch for generational transition in leadership, suggesting that the older generation should step aside once systems begin to function smoothly and allow younger people to take charge.

Addressing a press conference in Nagpur ahead of the Advantage Vidarbha-Khasdar Audhyogik Mahotsav, Gadkari said he firmly believes in gradually handing over responsibility to the next generation.

The industrial expo has been conceptualised by Gadkari and is organised by Ashish Kale, president of the Association for Industrial Development (AID).

Highlighting Kale's role, Gadkari said the initiative has actively involved young people. "I believe that gradually, the generation should also change," he said.

Referring to his long association with Kale's family, Gadkari added, "Ashish's father is my friend.

Now we should be gradually made to retire and the responsibility be given to the new generation, and when the vehicle starts running smoothly, then we should withdraw and do some other work."

Gadkari, who serves as AID's chief mentor, said this year marks the third edition of the Advantage Vidarbha expo, which will be held in Nagpur from February 6 to 8. He noted that Vidarbha has strong entrepreneurial talent across multiple sectors and said the aim of the event is to position the region as a growing industrial hub.

"The objective of the three-day event is to establish Vidarbha as a strong and emerging growth hub on India's industrial map," he said.

Emphasising the pillars of regional development, Gadkari underlined the importance of the industrial sector, agriculture and allied activities, and the services sector.

He said balanced growth across these areas is essential for long-term economic progress.

The Advantage Vidarbha expo will see participation from industries across a wide range of sectors, including textiles, plastics, minerals, coal, aviation, logistics, IT, healthcare, pharmaceuticals, defence, real estate, renewable energy, and startups.

Highway builders write to FM, road ministry seek review of new arbitration norms

New Delhi,Agency: The apex body of highway builders, NHBF, has opposed the road transport ministry's move to end arbitration in disputes with claims of over Rs 10 crore even for ongoing and contracted projects where arbitration has not been invoked yet. It has also requested finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman to issue sector-specific clarification or guidance regarding her ministry's 2024 order to end arbitration for all such projects.

In its circular with regard to revised dispute resolution issued on Jan 12, the road transport ministry, while referring to the finance ministry order, said that any dispute between parties involving value of

Rs 10 crore or more will not be referred to arbitration, and these will be resolved by conciliation.

In its letter to road transport secretary V Umashankar, the National Highway Builders Federation (NHBF) has said invoking this provision in ongoing projects is "against settled principle of fair contracting" and would have a cascading impact on lenders and highway builders. It has urged the ministry to withdraw the revised provisions to ongoing projects, claiming that such a move will "impair project cash flow and debt servicing ability", "trigger lenders concerns" as well as shift financial stress to the banking system. In a separate letter to Sitharaman dated Jan 17, the federation has submitted that the revised dispute framework, in its present form, discourages investment, increases project cost, delays execution and transfers the financial risk to the banking system.

All city buses across the country manufactured from Oct 2026 onwards will be low-floor

New Delhi,Agency: All public buses meant for intra-city operation across the country manufactured from Oct 2026 onwards will be of low-floor, having ground clearance of 400 mm, which will make these more passenger friendly. As per the draft notification issued this week, all such buses of new models manufactured on and after April 1, 2026 and existing models manufactured after Oct 1 "shall conform to the requirements of AIS-216, as amended from time to time". It proposes that all these new buses with length 9-metre and above shall have floor height of 400 mm. The ministry has issued the draft notification considering that the manufacturers are already producing such buses. "The ecosystem is in place for implementing this norm," said an official. High steps, narrow aisles, poor handholds, and cramped seating make boarding difficult, especially for elderly, women, children, and persons with disabilities in most of the city buses operating across the country.

Growing self-confidence in “New India’s” youth is visible transformation

Union Minister for Commerce and Industry Piyush Goyal today highlighted that one of the most visible transformations in a resurgent and new India is the growing self-confidence among the country’s youth.

While addressing the “Startup Pe Charcha” interaction at Bharat Mandapam, New Delhi, Minister Goyal highlighted that one of the most visible transformations in a resurgent and new India is the growing self-confidence among the country’s youth.

He noted that young Indians today are increasingly willing to take risks, pursue entrepreneurship and experiment with ideas, marking a significant shift from earlier hesitations around career choices, and said that this self-confidence reflects a fundamental change in India’s mindset towards innovation and future-ready growth.

Speaking on the Free Trade Agreements (FTAs), Goyal said India’s recent agreements with developed economies provide significant opportunities for startups and entrepreneurs.

He explained that these agreements create certainty and confidence for investors while opening new markets for Indian goods and services. Further, the minister encouraged startups to explore startup-to-startup collaborations and partnerships with countries abroad to attract investment and expand globally, highlighting opportunities across services, mobility, payments, sustainability, renewable energy and advanced technologies.

On deep-tech innovation, Goyal expressed optimism about the progress being made across the country, and noted that recent policy discussions have brought sharper focus to deep-tech development and said that the second Rs 10,000-crore Startup Fund of Funds announced by the government will significantly support deep-tech startups, particularly at early and critical stages of growth. He added that his interactions with incubators and academic institutions across the country reflect strong momentum in this sector. Referring to India’s space startup ecosystem, he noted that over 350 startups are currently operating in the sector, with deep-tech innovation at their core, and said the sector has crossed a valuation of USD 2 billion, with the government aiming to support the emergence of multiple unicorns in the coming years.

He further addressed concerns related to sectors such as handicrafts, and highlighted the importance of integrating technology into inventory management to enable artisans to access digital and e-commerce platforms. The Government e-Marketplace (GeM) is willing to support such efforts by facilitating onboarding, inventory digitisation and market access, including through integration with the Open Network for Digital Commerce (ONDC), he added.

Nobel Peace Prize winner Machado faces criticism

Has the 2025 Nobel Peace Prize lost its sheen? Did Venezuelan Opposition leader Maria Corina Machado belittle the prestige of the coveted award by giving it away?

María Corina Machado, who presented her 2025 Nobel Peace Prize medal to US President Donald Trump as a symbolic gesture of gratitude for his support of Venezuela’s freedom struggle, faces criticism and joins a group of Nobel laureates who have rejected or presented their awards to others for different reasons.

The general perception is whether Machado should have presented it to Trump, particularly days after US forces invaded her country and arrested her country’s President Nicolas Maduro, along with his wife. Her gesture has sparked controversy, especially in Norway, with critics viewing it as an attempt to curry political favour or a bargaining chip.

While presenting her gold Nobel medal to President Trump during a private White House meeting, Machado described it as an ‘act of gratitude on behalf of the Venezuelan people for his role in the removal of Nicolás Maduro.’

Machado put the award in a proper frame with a signed note which said ‘To Donald J Trump, in gratitude for your extraordinary leadership in promoting peace through strength, advancing diplomacy and defending liberty and prosperity.’

She said the award was presented as a ‘personal symbol of gratitude on behalf of the Venezuelan people in recognition of President

However, the ethical implications of Machado’s action are widely debated, with critics viewing it as a political manoeuvre that diminishes the prestige of the Peace Prize.

Machado’s gesture has been criticised in many political circles, particularly in Norway. The decision has been widely condemned by Norwegian politicians and some international observers, who view it as a political stunt that demeans the prestige and values of the Nobel Peace Prize.

Some Norwegian political leaders described the act as “absurd,” “meaningless,” and “embarrassing and damaging” to the Nobel Peace Prize’s reputation. Some critics suggest Machado used the medal as a “bargaining chip” to curry favour with Donald Trump and secure US support, rather than focusing on the democratic transferred, shared, or revoked once it has been awarded.

‘According to the Statutes of the Nobel Foundation, § 10, “No appeals may be made against the decision of a prize-awarding body about the award of a prize”.

None of the prize awarding committees in Stockholm and Oslo has ever considered revoking a prize once awarded.

As a matter of principle, the Norwegian Nobel Committee will not comment upon what the Peace Prize Laureates may say and do after they have been awarded the prize. The Committee’s mandate is restricted to evaluating the work and efforts of the nominated candidates up to the moment it is decided who shall be awarded the Nobel Peace Prize for a given year.

A Nobel Prize can neither be revoked, shared, nor transferred to others. Once the decisions have become controversial.

The most controversial handover was that of Knut Hamsun, a Norwegian writer who was awarded the Nobel Prize in Literature in 1920. During the Second World War, Hamsun supported the Germans. He met high-ranking Nazi officers, including Adolf Hitler and Nazi Minister of Propaganda Joseph Goebbels. Hamsun gave his Nobel Prize medal to Goebbels in 1943. Since then, its whereabouts are not known.[

Dmitry Muratov, a Russian journalist, television presenter and the former Editor-in-Chief of the Russian newspaper Novaya Gazeta, was awarded the 2021 Nobel Peace Prize jointly with Marisa Ressa for “their efforts to safeguard freedom of expression, which is a precondition for democracy and lasting peace.”

On March 22, 2022, Muratov decided to sell his Nobel Peace Prize medal at an auction, donating the proceeds to UNICEF for the benefit of refugees from Ukraine. The medal auction was carried out by Heritage Auctions and was sold for 103.5 million USD, the highest price ever recorded for a Nobel medal.

Nane Annan, the widow of former UN Secretary General Kofi Annan, donated her late husband’s medal to the United Nations.

American novelist Ernest Hemingway, known for an economical, understated style that influenced later 20th-century writers, was awarded the Nobel Prize in Literature in 1954. He reportedly placed his Literature Prize medal at a shrine in Cuba.

Le Duc Tho, a Vietnamese revolutionary, diplomat and politician, was the first Asian to be awarded the Nobel Peace Prize jointly with former US Secretary of State Henry Kissinger in 1973. But Tho declined to accept the award, claiming that peace had not yet been established, and that the United States and the South Vietnamese governments were in violation of the Paris Peace Accords.

Notwithstanding some of these famous handovers of the Nobel Prizes, the Nobel Foundation and the Norwegian Nobel Committee maintain that the integrity of the prize itself is separate from the actions a laureate chooses to take with the physical award (the medal, diploma, and prize money) after they receive the honour.

India steps toward about 800 Vande Bharat trainsets by 2030

Expanding train services to long-distance overnight travel, Prime Minister Narendra Modi today flagged off country’s maiden Vande Bharat sleeper train from West Bengal’s Malda district. The central government now gears up for the ambitious plan that by 2047, the Vande Bharat fleet is to scale up to around 4,500 trainsets, aligned with India’s long-term development goals. In the medium term, the focus will be on scaling up services, operating about 800 Vande Bharat trainsets by 2030 which is, subject to infrastructure readiness and manufacturing capacity. “Vande Bharat Express, India’s first indigenously designed and manufactured semi-high-speed trainset has been developed to strengthen inter-city rail services by combining modern technology, improved passenger comfort, and reduced journey times,” a release by the Railway Ministry reads. Launched on February, 2019, the Vande Bharat Express commenced service on the New Delhi–Kanpur–Prayagraj–Varanasi corridor. The 16-coach, fully air-conditioned trainset is designed for a maximum speed of 160 kmph with modern passenger amenities to improve energy efficiency and operational sustainability. Till last year 164 Vande Bharat services had been operationalised in 274 districts, which carried more than 7.5 crore passengers, mentioned Railway Ministry in the release. Commercially inaugurated on 15 February 2019, the project has gained momentum with around 80 trains currently being operated across the network.

Taiwan detects Chinese drone in its aerial zone

Taiwan detected a Chinese army’s reconnaissance UAV (Unmanned Aerial Vehicle) entering Taiwan’s southwestern ADIZ. Taiwan’s Ministry of National Defense said that the UAV departed after radio warnings. In a post on X, it said, “At 0541hrs (UTC+8), a PLA reconnaissance UAV was detected entering Taiwan’s southwestern ADIZ and entering airspace near Dongsha (the Pratas Islands). After radio warnings, the UAV departed the area. The ROC Armed Forces are monitoring the situation and responding accordingly.” Earlier in the day, Taiwan’s Ministry of National Defense detected the presence of 26 sorties of Chinese military aircraft, eight naval vessels, and an official ship around its territorial waters. Of the 26 sorties, seven crossed the median line and entered Taiwan’s northern, central, and southwestern ADIZ. In a post on X, the MND said, “26 PLA aircraft, 8 PLAN vessels and 1 official ship operating around Taiwan were detected up until 6 a.m. (UTC+8) today. 7 out of 26 sorties crossed the median line and entered Taiwan’s northern, central and southwestern ADIZ. We have monitored the situation and responded.” Earlier, Taiwanese President Lai Ching-te said he would continue safeguarding Taiwan and would not allow China to interfere, Focus Taiwan reported. It stated that President Lai, as commander-in-chief of the armed forces, pledged to protect the country and safeguard the lives and property of all citizens. “I will certainly safeguard the nation and absolutely not allow Chinese pressure or China’s hand to reach into Taiwan,” President Lai said. He also said on Thursday that China’s “cross-border pressure” against the people of Taiwan proves that Beijing’s authority does not extend to Taiwan and confirms that Taiwan is not part of the People’s Republic of China (PRC). Focus Taiwan reported Lai cited the recent visit to Taiwan by China-born Japanese lawmaker Hei Seki, who has been sanctioned by China and barred from entering the PRC, saying that the visit demonstrated how the Republic of China (ROC) -- Taiwan’s official name -- and the PRC are not subordinate to each other.

Thrilling Conclusion

And when the end came it came silent but clear like bird prints on snow and no one was surprised to see it arrive and still friends lingered in doorways letting goodbyes go bad and chirping cats were fed a second time just to be sure and the family dogs formed a congress in the woods with the coyotes and someone was careful to leave bubble wrap for children to burst and the night watchman pretended his glasses fogged over as we passed and it turned out the trees were unmemorable and the government a trick of the light and it was sorry, the ending, but it didn’t know what for and it was okay at least as much as we were and we swam with it in whatever we had on under and we kissed so hard we clanged teeth and we ate without speaking and then at last spoke all at once like an unknicked hose and then it began, the ending, the way all creatures do, small and angry at its own misunderstandings.

US-EU trade deal on pause after Trump threatens to impose tariffs on European nations

Following US President Donald Trump’s warning to impose tariffs on Denmark and other European countries over the sale of Greenland, the European Union has called for a pause to the ratification process of the EU-US trade deal announced back in July 2025.

Vice-President of the European People’s Party, Siegfried Muresan, in a post on X, confirmed the pause in the ratification process, stating, “We were supposed to ratify the EU-US trade deal from last July very soon, reducing tariffs for imports from the US into the European Union to 0%. However, in light of recent developments, this ratification will have to wait a little longer in this new context.” The deal announced in July 2025, between the US and the EU, comprising 27 member states, unveiled a bilateral framework agreement aimed at resolving various tariff and trade issues. However, Trump’s recent post on Truth Social has cast doubt on the future of the agreement. On Saturday, Trump threatened to impose tariffs on Denmark and other European countries unless they agree to sell Greenland. In his post, Trump claimed the move is necessary for national security, citing China’s and Russia’s interest in the territory. He offered to negotiate with the European nations but warned of escalating tariffs of 10 per cent from February 1, 2026, and 25 per cent from June 1, 2026 if a deal wasn’t reached, stating it was “time for Denmark to give back” after years of US support. “Starting on February 1st, 2026, all of the above mentioned Countries (Denmark, Norway, Sweden, France, Germany, The United Kingdom, The Netherlands, and Finland), will be charged a 10% Tariff on any and all goods sent to the United States of America. On June 1st, 2026, the Tariff will be increased to 25%. This Tariff will be due and payable until such time as a Deal is reached for the Complete and Total purchase of Greenland,” Trump posted. Trump has been adamant about acquiring Greenland, a semi-autonomous territory of Denmark, citing national security concerns. Washington claims Greenland’s strategic location and mineral resources are vital to its security, but the leadership in Denmark and Greenland have rejected the idea, emphasising their right to self-determination. Muresan, in a follow-up post, added that Trump’s latest announcement undermines the “stability” which was the sole benefit expected from last year’s trade deal. He further stated that this was the reason why delaying the ratification of the trade deal is warranted. “STABILITY would have been the only gain from last year’s trade deal between the US and the European Union. Today’s announcement by President Trump to eventually impose new tariffs on several EU member states takes away that stability. This is why the postponement of the ratification of that trade deal is justified,” Muresan added. Meanwhile, Germany, Sweden, France, Norway, the Netherlands, and Finland have sent small numbers of military personnel to Greenland, with Denmark increasing its own military presence amid Trump’s call for acquiring the Arctic island.

The situation has sparked concerns about the potential impact on NATO, with some European leaders warning that a US attempt to seize Greenland could lead to the alliance’s demise.

Chemco Group Commissions Rs. 125 Crore rPET Bottle-to-Bottle Recycling Facility in Gujarat

Mumbai ,Agency: Chemco Group, one of India's leading plastic packaging manufacturers, has commissioned a state-of-the-art food-grade rPET recycling facility in Sanand, Gujarat, marking a major milestone in the country's transition towards a circular plastics economy. The project represents a capital investment of approximately Rs. 125 crore and positions Chemco among a select group of Indian companies offering true end-to-end bottle-to-bottle recycling at industrial scale.

The facility is designed to recycle over 1 billion post-consumer PET bottles annually, converting them back into high-quality, food-grade recycled PET (rPET) suitable for direct food and beverage packaging applications. With this commissioning, Chemco significantly strengthens India's domestic capability to replace virgin plastic with certified recycled material while maintaining stringent quality and safety standards.

Located in the industrial hub of Sanand, the plant has been developed to meet global regulatory expectations. The recycled PET produced at the facility is US FDA and EFSA approved, and fully compliant with FSSAI requirements for food-contact applications in India. In addition, the operations adhere to all applicable Bureau of Indian Standards (BIS) governing plastic recycling and recycled PET materials, reinforcing Chemco's commitment to regulatory excellence and product integrity.

"This facility represents a strategic shift in how Chemco approaches sustainability," said Mr. Vaibhav Saraogi, Managing Director, Chemco Group. "Rather than treating recycling as an external dependency, we have built a fully integrated bottle-to-bottle ecosystem that gives our customers confidence in supply security, traceability, and compliance. This is not just an investment in infrastructure; it is an investment in the future of responsible packaging."

The commissioning of this plant comes at a time when global brands and regulators are intensifying their focus on recycled content, carbon reduction, and circularity. By establishing in-house recycling capabilities, Chemco enables its brand partners to meet recycled-content mandates, extended producer responsibility (EPR) obligations, and sustainability commitments without compromising on performance or food safety.

The Sanand facility has been developed as a closed-loop operation, ensuring complete control across the recycling value chain. This integrated approach enhances traceability, reduces dependency on external suppliers, and lowers the environmental impact associated with long logistics routes. The scale of operations also allows Chemco to deliver consistent quality and volumes required by large beverage, FMCG, and food brands.

Beyond environmental impact, the project delivers meaningful industrial and regional benefits. The facility generates skilled employment, strengthens Gujarat's position as a manufacturing and sustainability hub, and contributes to India's broader objectives of waste reduction, resource efficiency, and circular manufacturing.

Chemco Group brings over three decades of experience in PET packaging to this initiative, supplying rigid and flexible packaging solutions to leading domestic and international brands.

The addition of large-scale rPET recycling further consolidates Chemco's position as a long-term partner for companies seeking credible, compliant, and scalable sustainable packaging solutions.

Our societies face decline of truth, trust, says WEF founder Klaus Schwab ahead of Davos 2026 summit

New Delhi ,Agency: World Economic Forum founder and ex-chairman of its Board of Trustees, Klaus Schwab, has issued a stark warning regarding the erosion of societal foundations ahead of this 56th edition of the annual gathering of the global elite at Davos, which is taking place at a time of geopolitical tumult.

In a message shared on X, Schwab emphasised that the global community currently lacks the two fundamental pillars of truth and trust required to address urgent international challenges. He stated that without restoring these values, the capacity for collective action remains at risk.

"We are missing in our society two fundamental pillars. It's truth, and it's trust. And without restoring those pillars, we will not be able to solve the big global issues which we face at this moment. Our societies face a decline of truth and trust. Without truth, we lose a shared reality; without trust, we lose our capacity to act together. It's a keyword of dialogue of listening each to another and in such a way to see the different aspects, the different dimensions of a problem and such fundamental in order to be able to create solutions afterwards," Schwab noted. He identified the present moment as a critical juncture where the restoration of these pillars is the only path toward solving significant global issues.

Schwab highlighted that the current era of rapid and disruptive technological change requires a focus on maintaining human essence. "If there is one decisive factor of the intelligent age, what is it? I think it's the capability in view of the fast and disruptive technological change to remain human beings.

And as human beings, we have to exercise empathy, we have to listen to each other, and I think we have to analyze issues not just with our brains, but also with our heart, and with an understanding that ultimately we have to serve not ourselves, but society," he said. Schwab founded the World Economic Forum in 1971 from which he was dismissed last April before being reinstated a few months later, following an internal investigation that deemed the allegations against him unfounded. Schwab retired from his roles at the Forum in 2025.

Agency, Indore

Indian cricket team's experienced batsman Virat Kohli has set several records with his brilliant century in the third One Day International against New Zealand. However, Virat could not save his team from defeat in this match. Virat scored 124 runs off 108 balls in this match, setting several major records. With this innings, Kohli scored his 54th century in his ODI career. This was his 85th century in his international career. Despite Virat's innings, the Indian team could only score 296 runs while chasing a target of 339. With his century at the Holkar Stadium, Virat also broke Sachin Tendulkar's record of scoring centuries at 34 different venues. Indore has become the 35th ground where Virat has scored a century. This was Virat's 10th century against New Zealand across all formats, and with this century, he has become the batsman with the most centuries against the Kiwi team. In this way, he surpassed Jacques Kallis, Joe Root, and Tendulkar. All three of them have 9 centuries each against New Zealand. By scoring his seventh ODI century against New Zealand, Virat has become the batsman with the most centuries against this team in ODIs. He has surpassed Virender Sehwag and former Australian captain Ricky Ponting. Sehwag and Ponting have scored 6 centuries each against New Zealand in ODIs, while Virat now has 7 centuries.

Rohit, who failed in the series against New Zealand, defended by Shubman Gill

Agency, Indore

The Indian cricket team suffered a 1-2 defeat in the three-match ODI series against New Zealand. The reason for the Indian team's defeat in this series was the failure of opening batsman Rohit Sharma, which has once again raised questions about his form. Rohit could not play a big innings in all three matches of the series and scored only 61 runs. In the third ODI, the Indian team was given a target of more than 300 runs, but Rohit could only score 11 runs. His highest score in the series was 26 runs. Meanwhile, team captain Shubman Gill defended Rohit, saying that he could not convert good starts into big innings in this series, and that this happens sometimes. Earlier, he had batted well in the South Africa and Australia series. In the last six ODIs, he had scored more than 50 runs four times, but this time he could not maintain that rhythm. In the third and final ODI against New Zealand, Rohit could only score 11 runs. Thus, in the three ODI matches, he scored only 26, 24, and 11 runs. This is why the Indian team could not post big scores and had to face defeat. After the match, Shubman said, "I think he is in good form; he has scored runs from the Australia series to the South Africa series. In this series, he could not convert good starts into big innings, but I think he gave the team a good start in the first two ODIs. As a batsman, you always want to convert those starts into big scores and centuries, although it is not always possible."

AFCON 2025: Senegal defeats Morocco in extra time, wins controversial final to become champion for the second time

Rabat: Senegal won the Africa Cup of Nations (AFCON) 2025 title, defeating host nation Morocco 1-0 in the final. Pape Gueye's decisive goal in extra time secured the victory for Senegal, but the match was marred by a controversial penalty and ugly incidents both on and off the pitch. The most dramatic moment of the match came in the 24th minute of injury time when Morocco was awarded a penalty. Referee Jean-Jacques Ndala gave the spot-kick after a VAR review for a foul on Brahim Diaz in the box. However, after nearly 20 minutes of commotion and protests, when Diaz finally stepped up to take the penalty, his weak chip shot was easily saved by Senegal goalkeeper Edouard Mendy. The penalty decision had enraged the Senegalese players and fans. Several players began to leave the field, while Senegalese supporters in one section of the stadium threw chairs and other objects and attempted to storm the pitch. Police and stewards had to intervene to restore order. Earlier in the match, a Senegalese goal had also been mired in controversy when Abdoulaye Seck's header in the second minute of injury time, followed by Ismaila Sarr's rebound goal, was disallowed for a foul.

ICC gives Bangladesh board two days to decide on T20 World Cup participation

» If India is not willing to play, we will include Scotland

Agency, Dubai

The International Cricket Council (ICC) has warned the Bangladesh Cricket Board (BCB) to be prepared to play the T20 World Cup in India, failing which another team will be given the opportunity. The ICC has said that a European team could be included in place of Bangladesh. According to a report, the ICC has given the BCB until January 21 to decide, and has also said that if they do not agree, Scotland will be included in their place. This is because Scotland also has a good T20 ranking. The BCB, however, says that its matches should be held outside India due to security concerns. In this matter, the ICC's investigation found that there are no such security concerns. ICC officials, in a meeting with the BCB in Dhaka, asked them to decide on the India tour within the given timeframe. The BCB reiterated its demand to hold its matches in co-host Sri Lanka due to security reasons. According to the ICC, there is no threat to the Bangladeshi team. The ICC has also rejected the BCB's suggestion to swap groups with Ireland. Ireland plays all its group stage matches in Sri Lanka. The BCB had suggested that its group be swapped with Ireland's. Bangladesh is scheduled to play three of its group stage matches in Kolkata and the fourth in Mumbai. The ICC has released the tournament schedule and all preparations for its organization have been completed, so no changes are possible.

Agency, New Delhi

Srachi Bengal Tigers forward Lalremsiami, reflecting on her team's runner-up finish in the Women's Hero Hockey India League (HIL) 2025-26, described it as a season full of learning, both individually and as a team. She expressed confidence that the team will take another step forward and win the title next season. In an official statement, Lalremsiami said, "This season was quite good for us. We definitely wanted to be champions, but as a team, we performed excellently. Sometimes the results are not in your control, but I really enjoyed the Hero HIL experience this time. We enjoyed the game and learned a lot from each other." Srachi Bengal

Tigers played several matches in the tournament that went to penalty shootouts, including the final against SG Pipers. Talking about these high-pressure matches, Lalremsiami said that the team focused more on their game than the results. She said, "Our matches against SG Pipers have always been very close. In one match, we conceded a goal at the last minute and it went to a shootout, and in another, we dominated but couldn't score. We felt we could have won the match. Before the final, our focus was only on our game and skills, but unfortunately, we couldn't win in regulation time. Nevertheless, this experience was very important for us." After a slow start to the tournament, the Bengal Tigers found their rhythm. Lalremsiami praised the team's atmosphere, communication, and the role of senior players. She said, "We didn't get much time to build combinations, but the players and coaching staff worked hard to understand each other. The team atmosphere and communication were excellent. The senior players guided the younger players in the right direction, which was clearly visible on the field." Personally, this season was also special for Lalremsiami. She scored three goals and finished among the top 5 goal scorers in the tournament. She said, "Last season I was playing in midfield, but this time I played as a striker throughout the tournament. This gave me more opportunities to score goals. The support from the midfielders and defenders was fantastic. I thoroughly enjoyed this season." She also acknowledged that the Hero HIL has improved her decision-making abilities inside the circle. She said, "As a striker, you have to make quick decisions in 1v1 situations and under pressure. I got many such opportunities in this league. Initially, I made some wrong decisions, but I learned match by match, and now my decision-making has improved significantly." Speaking about the strong core of Indian players, she said that playing alongside senior players like Vandana Katariya, Monika, and Gurjit was a special experience. Looking ahead to future challenges, Lalremsiami said that the experience gained in the Hero HIL will be invaluable in major tournaments, including the Women's 2026 FIH Hockey World Cup Qualifiers in Hyderabad in March.

Court Issues Summons to Raj Kundra in Bitcoin Scam Case

A special PMLA court in Mumbai has issued summons to businessman Raj Kundra in connection with a Bitcoin scam. The court took cognizance of the charge sheet filed by the Enforcement Directorate (ED) and initiated this action. In the same case, Dubai-based businessman Rajesh Satija has also been summoned. Both accused have been directed to appear before the court.

The ED had filed a supplementary charge sheet in September 2025 before the special court handling

PMLA cases, naming Raj Kundra and Rajesh Satija as accused. According to the investigating agency, Amit Bhardwaj, the mastermind and promoter of the infamous Gain Bitcoin Ponzi scam, had given 285 bitcoins to Raj Kundra to set up a Bitcoin mining farm in Ukraine. Although the deal could not be completed, the ED claims that the 285 bitcoins are still in Raj Kundra's possession, and their current value is stated to be over ₹150 crore. The charge sheet also states that Kundra claimed to be merely an intermediary in the transaction but failed to produce any concrete documents to support this claim.

The ED further stated that an agreement referred to as a "term sheet" was executed between Raj Kundra and Mahendra Bhardwaj, which clearly indicates that the actual agreement was between Raj Kundra and Amit Bhardwaj. The charge sheet asserts that Kundra's claim of being only an intermediary is not acceptable.
